ABOUT AJ

Modern day Bungy Jumping was born through the vision of a young Kiwi and adventure seeker, AJ Hackett.

Inspired by the concept of vine divers from the Pentecost Islanders in Vanuatu, AJ Hackett tested his courage by first leaping off the Greenhithe Bridge (19m) in 1986 attached to rubber strands.

After much testing, refinement and Extreme Jumps, AJ launched Bungy to the world by leaping off the Eiffel Tower in 1987 and opening his first commercial Bungy site in the World in New Zealand in 1988. Cairns, the first International purpose built Bungy tower was opened soon after in 1990.

Now 25 years on, with over 3.5million safe jumps (and still counting), AJ Hackett International operates in 6 different countries, all celebrating the culture of Bungy and offering many extreme personal challenges like no other.

AJ Hackett International now operates in Australia, China, France, Germany, Russia and in late 2015 are proud to be adding Singapore into the family as well.

CAIRNS BUNGY

AJ Hackett Cairns Bungy site is Australia's One & Only Bungy Tower and has been operating for over 25 years.

The Cairns Bungy Tower, standing at 50 metres (164ft), is nestled in the World Heritage Rainforest, overlooking the Great Barrier Reef and is only a 20 minute drive North of Cairns CBD.

Our Bungy cords are all made here onsite by our very own Jump Masters, ensuring the highest quality cord standard at all times. Each cord is checked and logged daily against its own unique identifier and are ONLY used for ONE THIRD of their regulated life! Did you know each cord has a breaking strain of 2.2 tonne? That's the size of a car!

The Cairns Bungy site was built with visitors in mind, we have purpose built viewing platforms, the latest tunes pumping through the site, sun lounges and a Licensed bar ... So come on out, have a chat with our crew, sit, relax on a sunbed and take in the great AJ Hackett Cairns vibe.
